

NO USE FOR SILVER.

The Republican of this State never weary of telling us that they remain with their party because it is the only party that can bring about the re-monetization of silver. Let them read this from the Chicago Record:

The Republican party desires to get back into power at the next national election. Republican leaders nervously seek to avoid searing away votes by making unnecessary declarations on the silver question or any other question that may arouse antagonism.

Nevertheless on the main question there can be little doubt as to the position the party will occupy if the issue is forced. Its declaration will be in the negative on the proposition to open the mints of the United States at once to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 without regard to the action of any other nation. The actions and declarations of leading men and party conventions clearly indicate this. The aggressive free-silver element of the party will not be allowed to dictate. Every inducement will be made to retain the support of Senator Dubois and his western colleagues except granting the one extreme principle for which they hold out. If Senator Dubois and his followers love free silver more than they love the Republican party they will be allowed to go. In order to vote in the affirmative on the main question they will have to vote some other ticket than Republican. Any concessions short of absolute and unlimited free coinage at 16 to 1 the Republican party in its declarations may grant.

President Tracy, in his address to the Republican league convention, unhesitatingly refers to free silver as something the Republican party cannot endorse.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A London paper says: Notwithstanding the heinousness of Wilde's crime, there is a marked tendency on the part of the public to regard him with more or less pity inasmuch as it is generally admitted that he has been made a scapegoat, and the crime for which he has been incarcerated is so far from rare that a whole-sale application of the dra-tic methods applied in his case would involve many who now affect the most profound contempt for the dethroned literature.

The Illinois Legislature has passed a law abolishing the practice of allowing three days' grace on promissory notes and other commercial papers. The bill specifies that all checks, drafts, notes and similar obligations shall be paid promptly at maturity, but when they fall due on a legal holiday they are to be paid on the following day. The action is taken on the ground that in three days of fast mails and electric communications is no longer necessary.

A man went into a Florida barber-shop to have his hair cut, and when the barber had removed half of it the man said he wished the job on credit. The barber refused to complete the job and the man sued for damages for injury done to his personal appearance but the court decided the barber was right, thus giving the country another warning that business must return to a cash basis.

It is said that Du Manrier's new novel will be practically a sequel to "Tribby." It is not impossible that there may be a little Tribby in it, especially when it is remembered that Tribby's mother gave birth to a post-humous child ten months after her husband's death. This trait may prove to be hereditary—Salt Lake Tribune.

A Carson City dispatch to the S. F. Chronicle says that the defendants in the Mint case are receiving a great deal of sympathy because of the over-bearing methods adopted by the Government. The Government made a great mistake in not putting all the defendants on the pension roll.

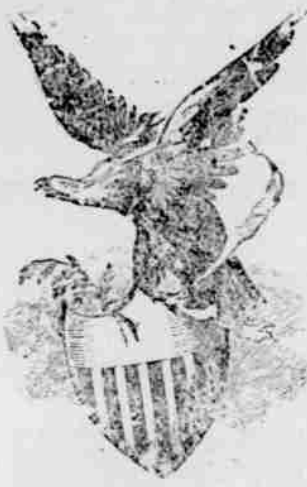

The discussion going on in the San Francisco papers relative to the wearing of bloomers, shows that women are simply becoming independent in this day and generation and will dress as it suits their fancy.

Many old line representatives of this city openly express their disgust of the Cleveland Convention, because of its failure to adopt a silver plank and henceforth these Republicans will train with the 16 to 1 men.

Eli Perkins, who has a national reputation as a liar, is writing gold-bug articles for the Chicago Times-Herald. No worthier advocate of the cause could be found.
